

Gender Equality in the Church

Dr. Cheryl Catford-McCallum

"Martha and Mary" by He Qi

Gender equality in the church continues to be a fraught issue for the Australian church. Cheryl Catford-McCallum, one of Australia's foremost thinkers in this area, shares her learnings with us.

The Executive Director of VCCE, Cheryl Catford-McCallum, is an ordained Churches of Christ minister.

Beginning her career as a high school teacher, Cheryl spent fifteen years at Tabor College Victoria, a theological college, first as a lecturer and then as the Principal for four years.

Cheryl has also worked for TEAR Australia, Urban Neighbours of Hope, and as the National Director for the Australian Evangelical Alliance.

Cheryl's passions include bible engagement, biblical equality and women in ministry. She enjoys reading, travelling and drinking coffee. She has two adult children and worships at One Community Church in Blackburn.
